2018

Taiwan: Empowering Disaster Resilient Communities in Asia will strengthen disaster preparedness and recovery in rural areas of Taiwan through a multi-pronged "5E" initiative. The program will provide "Enhancement" by training elders to increase their digital capacity; "Engagement" by providing workshops and education programs for university students; "External Resources" by integrating disaster preparedness with eco-tourism; "Experience-Sharing" through traditional and social media campaigns; and "Empowerment" by connecting Taiwanese practitioners with Indonesian counterparts to share best practices.
(Alumni team: Study of the U.S. Institutes (SUSI))

Taiwan: The Project of Adaptive Screening, Streaming, and Instruction for Omni-Directional Nurturing ("PASSION-Fulbright") seeks to improve English learning among low achievers, bridge learning gaps, and contribute to social justice. The project will use an innovative diagnostic assessment system for English levels and adaptive "learning by doing" teaching toolkits to address the urban/rural gap in Taiwan students' English learning.

PROJECT PROFILE

Prospect South China Sea

JULY 1, 2014 - JULY 1, 2015

To breach the bottleneck of issues related to South China Sea (SCS), we will examine them not only from the eyes of multi-disciplinary experts but also from those of the youth and general public. This holistic view will elucidate what is missing from the puzzle of integrated management scheme for resources and identify critical leverage points to develop future solutions.
